

Windrated Garage Doors

When purchasing a new garage door it is very important to consider if you will need to upgrade your garage door to a reinforced model. You may need to check with your local code enforcement office to know what the requirements are in your county.

How to Determined your Windrating Requirement

The requirements are rated in miles per hour (MPH)

1ST STEP:

Use this site to determine the wind speed requirement in your area or call your local code enforcement office. .

2ND Step:

Go to the door builder, and after you have chosen your door size you will be able to choose your counties' wind speed from the drop down menu. This will give you the appropriate price for the correct garage door with the correct number of wind supports for your application.